LLM AND CERTIFICATE IN EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING AND TEACHING

This joint programme of Charles University and Palacký University Olomouc is targeted at both lawyers and teachers who would benefit from a deeper understanding of innovative and effective teaching methods and applied principles of teaching and learning through experiential methods.

New or more senior academics, lecturers, instructors, tutors or anyone with an active, guiding, role in education should benefit from participating in this programme. All students will be required to spend one week each semester in Prague so that intensive work can be carried out, face to face. The rest of the programme will be delivered online offering maximum flexibility in terms of access and learning but ensuring effective engagement.

The programme is comprised of 4 compulsory modules that cover the main theoretical and professional practice considerations, followed by a range of electives that allow the students to use this framework in the context of specialist subjects.
