

EUROPEAN UNIVERSITY
ALLIANCE

FACULTY
OF LAW
Charles University

Lectures in modern administrative law:
»Experiments in administration and the administration of experiments«

13th October 2023, 9.30

Venue: Faculty of Law, Charles University, Nám. Curieových 7, Praha 1 room 38

Introduction: Experimental legislation and the administration of experiments

Professor Jakub Handrlica, Charles University

I. REGULATORY SANDBOXES

The regulatory sandbox: the latest addition to the long-standing tradition of experimental law

Professor Alexandre Flückiger, University of Geneva

Enhancing Insights: Valuable Lessons from Establishing FinTech Regulatory Sandboxes

Associate Professor Alexandra Andhov, University of Copenhagen

Discussants – Vladimír Sharp & Gabriela Blahoudková, Charles University (national report on regulatory sandboxes in the Czech Republic), Liilia Serhiichuk, Charles University (national report on regulatory sandboxes in Ukraine)

II. AUTOMATISATION IN DECISION MAKING

Open data and administrative activity: implications for composite proceedings

Alessia Monica, University of Milan

Automated Decision Making: What is the Black Box Hiding?

Jan Nešpor, Charles University

EU administrative decision-making delegated to machines – legal problems and challenges

Pavλίna Hubková, University of Maastricht

Discussant – Associate Professor Radomír Jakab, University of Košice (national report on automatisisation in decision making in the Slovak Republic), Miroslav Sedláček, Charles University (national report on automatisisation in judicial decision making in the Czech Republic)

III. TOWARDS THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE FUTURE

Artificial public administration - myth or reality

Professor Richard Pomahač, Charles University

Final remarks and the way forward with administration of experiments

Professor Jakub Handrlica, Charles University

The round table is being organised under the umbrella of the 4 EU+ project »Regulatory Sandboxes: Mirage and Reality in Public Law«